We are excited to present this hands-on experience building a modified version of lasagna garden beds. Lasagna sheet composting provides a way to plant instantly into a nutrient-rich bed that builds soil as your plants grow. This is a great way to start a new garden or expand on your existing growing area. We will be showing a modification of this technique that nestles your garden beds into the landscape in order to conserve water and encourage healthier plants.

We hope you'll join us at The Future Forge on May 6, from 12:00 noon - 2:00-ish pm for this educational and fun activity.

As usual this workshop will be by donation so that all who wish can attend.
